

60 years of business

The company was founded in 1963 by our very innovative father Mladen Maras. He had the essential characteristic of good entrepreneurs: he knew how to recognise the needs of the market. That is why the first company products were goggles for Vespa riders. Throughout the years and decades, the company continued to develop. In the 70s, we started making heaters for plastic injection moulding machines. Since the beginning, we have invested in the development, improving the quality of our products, services and work processes.

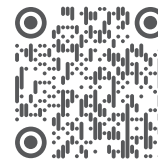

Today, we use modern machinery that allows us to precisely manufacture heaters and a configurator to prepare the product with the help of 3D construction. Thanks to the latest product testing system, we can certify every heater. The quality of our heaters is reflected in the fact that we export to more than 20 countries around the world and that 80% of our heaters are exported to European Union markets.

Grelci Maras is a family company. It was founded by our father Mladen Maras, who was then joined by his son Ivan, followed by his son Bojan a little later. Our father unfortunately died last year. We are grateful to him for his innovative spirit, establishment of the company, excellent performance and enthusiastic cooperation until the end.

Dear customers

We are proud to inform you that this year marks the 60th anniversary of our company!

And because we would not exist without you, we invite you to the FAKUMA trade fair (17–23 October 2023, Friedrichshafen), so we can meet up and socialise once again.

We will revive the nostalgia of the 60s with our father's Vespa, which was extremely popular in the 60s and is closely tied to our beginnings. We will bring it to the fair so you can take a nostalgic photo or a selfie with it. For the photo, you will also be able to put on special goggles for Vespa riders. You might not know: these goggles were the first products made by Maras.

It will be fun!

We look forward to meeting you!
Ivan and Bojan Maras with the team

PS: You will leave the meeting with something delicious – a box of our father's favourite chocolates. Yes, these were also made in the 60s!
